

JOHNSON FAVORS SUPERVISION OF SHIP SUBSIDIES

University of Pennsylvania Professor Declares for Creation of Federal Board to Have Charge of Matter.

ALBUQUERQUE MORNING JOURNAL SPECIAL CHARGE WIRE
New York, Dec. 8.—The creation of a Federal board of shipping to supervise the granting of ship subsidies as a step toward the building up of an American merchant marine was advocated today by Emory R. Johnson, professor of transportation and commerce in the University of Pennsylvania. In an address before the international trade conference which began here today under auspices of the National Association of Manufacturers.

Professor Johnson declared that the European war had brought home the need of an adequate maritime service to protect American trade. He said that the only thing that had saved American foreign commerce was the fact that the seas had been controlled by Great Britain, a power which controlled two-fifths of the world's ocean-carrying business.

"In the European war, he said, were being waged on the sea as widely as it is being fought on the land, American foreign commerce would be practically paralyzed at the present time."

Professor Johnson said the urgency of the present situation imposed on congress the obligation to agree upon comprehensive legislation this winter to end the inequality between the navigation laws of the United States and those of other maritime nations.

"There can be no hope," he said, "of securing for the service of the foreign trade of the United States a large tonnage of chartered vessels under the American flag if the conditions of operating vessels under the flag of the United States are more onerous than the requirements of the navigation laws of other countries."

PROMISE FOR FEDERAL BOARD.

Outlining his plan for the creation of a federal shipping board, Professor Johnson said:

"The shipping board of the marine department of the Interstate Commerce commission would be a body of experts, which, like the Interstate Commerce commission as regards railroad regulation, would have much weight with congress in all matters of legislation regarding shipping."

"This board should, first of all, be directed by contract to investigate shipping and navigation laws of the United States and to report at an early date a desired code of maritime laws. Congress should make a liberal appropriation to be expended by the shipping board in aid of shipping. The board should be authorized to enter into contracts with a limited number of steamship lines from the United States to foreign countries. Congress should leave in the board the selection of lines to be aided, the amounts to be paid, and the formulation of the provisions of the contracts made by the government with the lines aided."

Professor Johnson expressed the opinion that a board of three members would be sufficiently large. He declared that such a board should not have the power to engage in the shipping business directly or indirectly as he contended the government ownership of certain vessels would be a menace.

BANKERS TO BOOST THE COTTON STATES

ALBUQUERQUE MORNING JOURNAL SPECIAL LEADER WIRE

New Orleans, Dec. 8.—The cotton states bankers conference meeting here today and tonight discussed a wide range of constructive ideas and suggestions for advancing the general interests of the south through co-operation with bankers, business men, farmers and the newspapers. The building of warehouses for the storage of cotton, adoption of a scientific method of marketing the crop and encouragement of a system of farm credits were among the principal proposals advanced.

At tomorrow's meetings it is planned to take steps toward putting these movements under way on a systematic basis through permanent organization of the cotton states bankers conference and adoption of a definite plan of work.

One of the most important today was the formation of the Cotton States Press association by southern editors present. The organization will work in conjunction with the bankers and possibly direct a publicity campaign.

Halifax, N. S., Dec. 8.—An application was made in the admiralty court here today as a result of a cable message from Andrew Bonar Law, British secretary of state for the colonies, to have the case of the American steamer Horlick and the Dutch steamer Hamborn transferred to England. Judge Driscoll continued the matter for two weeks.

An application for an appeal to the privy council in the case of the Hamborn was allowed.

The Hamborn, owned by the American Trans-Atlantic company, and the Hamborn were seized by British cruisers and brought here as prizes as Great Britain contended both vessels were actually owned by Germans.
